ACTIVITIES

Active Tourism

Campo de Gibraltar is situated in the South, between two seas and two continents, the most Southern area in Spain.

This privileged geographic situation brought about, from its origins, the settlement and step of cultures, under which the idiosyncrasy of an area with future and development was created. With more than 10 kms of top-level beaches, fantastic weather with about 300 sunny days a year and the Natural Parks of “Los Alcornocales” and “El Estrecho”, it is more than enough to make it the best of the destinations.

In the area of the Bay of Algeciras, we find El Rinconcillo and Getares beaches, which, every year, are awarded the blue flag distinction of the Clean Seas of Europe. More beaches are Palmones, in Los Barrios, and Campamento and Puente Mayorga, in San Roque.

From a high point, it is possible to see the Strait of Gibraltar and the Northern part of the African continent, which makes it a privileged viewpoint of hundreds of bird species migration, which cross every year.
